PARTIE 1

Jalibatul Maraghibi 1

1 Thus says the servant of Allah, namely Aḥmad, the servant of him whose name is Muḥammad:

2 In the name of God – and He is the All-Merciful (Ar-Raḥmān), and He is the Most Merciful (Ar-Raḥīm) –: security has yielded to me.

3 Praise be to Allah for the Book, together with the Intercessor who takes away reproach,

4 our master Muḥammad, the best of creation, he whose service, and the sūras (of the Qur'ān), have led (good) to me.

5 Then the blessing of Allah and peace upon him to whom belong, from me, the pens,

6 our master, our intercessor, set foremost with Him in Whose presence my services grow pure,

7 Muḥammad, my means of approach and my shield against enemies and harm, and my garden,

8 and upon his Family and his righteous Companions, in the present and in the final outcome, again and again.

9 And after this: my intent is a service by which the eye of the Prophet may be gladdened, just as it is dutiful.

10 I have resolved, from this year, upon a service that gladdens him whose intercession is accepted, through whom I have been spared what is hard.

11 I have sought from the Lord of creatures a service for him by whose rank He has spared me a blow.

12 I praise Him for deliverance from harm and from every evil, hardship and peril.

13 I thank Him with a thanks that draws an increase of joy, and draws no plot toward me.

14 A praise and a thanks that hold fast to dutifulness toward the Lord of creatures and drive delusion away.

15 So I rose to set this introduction in verse, invoking blessings by it upon him whom (Allah) set foremost,

16 hoping to be a loftier servant and to win the loftiest abode,

17 asking my Master to benefit by it whoever wishes to draw benefit.

18 May Allah make it, by the rank of the Chosen One – may He bless him with a chosen peace –,

19 a blessed composition that guards against punishment, just as it has melted away what afflicted me,

20 a poem in rajaz that worships Allah, together with the Book and the Messenger of Allah.

21 I have named it "The Attractor of Desires" (Jālibat al-Marāghib), in the hereafter as in the here and now, for whoever desires.

22 I have turned to the aim, saying, with purity, by night or in the midday rest:

23 O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Beloved!

24 You have commanded us to invoke blessings upon our master, he who rose above creation,

25 Muḥammad, and to invoke peace upon him (Qur'ān 33:56), O Everlasting (Al-Bāqī) Who has made his loftiness endure for ever.

26 For ever, then, bless him and grant him peace, O Generous One, on my behalf, and lead to me what I seek.

27 Bless him, together with all the Family, with peace, and answer my request.

28 Bless him, together with all the Companions, with peace, and make my path clear.

29 And forgive every believing man and woman, with a forgiveness that keeps them constant in every good.

30 And forgive every Muslim man and woman, with a forgiveness that guards them from oppressors.

31 And forgive every man and woman who does good, with a forgiveness that leads goodness to them.

32 O Allah, bless for ever and grant peace to a Prophet whose precedence is well known,

33 our master Muḥammad, the Family and the Companions, in the present and in the final outcome.

34 O You with Whom the best of prophets sought refuge from the Accursed, the deceiver, the worst of fools,

35 bless with peace the Prophet, the Family and the Companions, and guard what is hidden within me.

36 O You Who protected the best of creation from all people together (Qur'ān 5:67), and magnified his station,

37 bless him and grant him peace for ever, with his Family and whoever is affiliated to him.

38 And bless, O All-Merciful (Ar-Raḥmān), with peace, him who was sent as a teacher,

39 our master Muḥammad, and the Family and his Companions, in the present and in the final outcome.

40 O You Who commanded the best of creation (to say) "I seek refuge in Allah", just as You protected him by it and by "Allah suffices us",

41 Bless him and grant him peace at every time, together with the Family, the Companions and the righteous.

42 And bless, O Most Merciful (Ar-Raḥīm), with peace, him whom my pens gladden,

43 our master Muḥammad, the Family and the Companions, O You Who have been generous with the (good) final outcome.

44 O best of those who send down (Revelation), Who protected with "I seek refuge in Allah", and best of those who send down, Who bestowed the basmala,

45 bless with peace him who surpassed (all) in his form and in his character, by unanimous accord,

46 our master Muḥammad, the Family and his Companions, in the present and in the final outcome,

47 just as he sought refuge in You from Satan, and illumined hearts as well as lands,

48 and just as You blessed him, the Companions and his Family, as much as the rain of the cloud.

49 Spread over us the blessings of the basmala, and free us from need of armed raid through "I seek refuge in Allah".

50 Spread over us the blessings of the Fātiḥa, and make our buckets draw up sweet water.

51 And enrich us with You, together with what is chosen for us, by the sanctity of the Prophet, the Chosen One.

52 And bless him for ever with peace, just as You led to him the most excellent of speech.

PARTIE 2

Jalibatul Maraghibi 2

53 And spare us, by the alif of the formula of refuge, from that against which refuge is sought, O my Refuge.

54 Spare us, by its ʿayn, from every accursed one and from all that You are not pleased with for me, O Helper.

55 Spare us, by its wāw, from every crookedness, and free us from what brings on retaliation.

56 Spare us, by the dhāl, from every humiliation, and free us from the unlawful through the lawful.

57 And enrich us with Allah above all else, with all that we love for His Face.

58 And by the remaining letters grant us a grace for which those before us will (holily) envy us.

59 And grant us, by the right of the bāʾ of the basmala, the sīn and the mīm, the joy of the perfect.

60 And grant us, by the bāʾ, in the two Abodes, what wards off the two shames and the two fires.

61 And grant us, by its sīn, felicity, in the present and in what is to come, and the wonder that breaks custom.

62 Grant us, by its mīm, a dominion that gladdens, and through what is easy free us from what is hard.

63 And grant us, by the alif, pliancy without disobedience, and illumine the place of my intimacy.

64 Grant us, by the lām, an immediate kindness, with glad tidings, and a kindness to come.

65 You have already led me, by the hidden alif, to the attainment of the lofty stations through the folding (of distances).

66 So bless for ever, with a peace without end, a Prophet who has been accepted,

67 our master Muḥammad, the Family and the Companions, on my behalf, and answer my request.

68 By the sanctity of the impregnable formula of refuge, bless him who brought the Law (Sharīʿa),

69 our master Muḥammad, and grant him peace, and the Family, the Companions and every Muslim.

70 And free me from need of (other) formulas of protection, O One in His attribute and in Essence

71 and in His works; and grant me protection from harm and from every stain.

72 By the sanctity of the blessed basmala, O You to Whom creation belongs without partnership,

73 bless and grant peace for ever, O Allah, upon our Prophet and whoever has taken him as friend,

74 our master Muḥammad, the Family and his Companions, O You to Whom is my return.

75 And grant me in You the perpetuity of blessing, without any man or woman who associates partners.

76 And by it free me thus from (having to say) "give me", and spare my every direction what is not glad tidings.

77 And bless for me all movements and stillnesses, and make them blessings.

78 O You with Whom I have sought refuge from Iblīs and from everything that holds ruin,

79 to You my gratitude, after an everlasting praise, O Exalted above son and father.

80 Send Satan toward a direction other than mine, and tame for me, in my homeland, (other) homelands.

PARTIE 3

Jalibatul Maraghibi 3

81 By the sanctity of the alif in the formula of refuge, make protection everlasting for me, O my Refuge.

82 By the sanctity of the ʿayn, pass over for ever (the faults) of whoever seeks shelter with me, wherever he worships.

83 By the sanctity of the wāw, direct toward me what I have sought from You, out of generosity, rightly aimed.

84 By the sanctity of the dhāl, abase whoever, among the children of time, is grieved by my joy.

85 By the bāʾ and the two lāms, grant me blessing, and make smooth for me, O Everlasting (Al-Bāqī), a (spiritual) legacy.

86 And grant me, by the hāʾ, the most beneficial gifts, and make lasting for me the best steadfastness and firmness.

87 And prevent, by the right of the mīm, whoever is accursed from heading toward me; and be for me and help me.

88 And drive away, by the right of the nūn, whoever has rebelled, toward what does not harm me, wherever he appears.

89 And send away every rebellious satan, by the alif of "shayṭān": let him not aim toward me.

90 And make others than me meet the Accursed when he seeks to harm, and do not let him attain his aim from me.

91 And with wretchedness drive Satan to lands other than those I possess.

92 May the Preserver (Al-Ḥafīẓ) drive him off, making him despair of me, and may he not head toward me with plot or word.

93 By its ṭā', turn his prowling toward directions other than mine, O Preserver, by that "toward" (elsewhere).

94 By the alif of "shayṭān", send his cunning to his own party, O You Whose remembrance I keep up.

95 By its nūn, thrust back into his throat all the plots he has amassed, and be for me, O All-Hearing (As-Samī').

96 By the alif of "ar-rajīm", send back to him the harm he brought, and remove evil.

97 By its lām, turn blame upon him, spare me from him and make (the truth) known to my heart.

98 By its rā’, throw back upon him the harm he intended for me, when he lay in wait.

99 By its jīm, decree firmly that he turn for ever (away), toward what is hostile to me and toward whoever has not worshipped.

100 By its yā’, may the One, the Subduer (Al-Wāḥid al-Qahhār), Giver of good, drive him toward others than me.

101 By its mīm, his Subduer has erased his heading toward me, and leads to me what I ask.

102 O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Lord, O our Beloved!

103 Bless and grant peace for ever upon the Prophet, master of every kinsman and every stranger,

104 our master Muḥammad, and send blessing, O One Who has no partner in dominion.

105 And turn Satan and the plots toward a direction other than mine; lead no schemer to me.

106 And spare me corruption and envy, and lead to me no one corrupt or corrupting.

107 And be for me always in movements and stillnesses, and make my life most praiseworthy.

108 And make the Accursed despair of my precinct, O You to Whom goes my gratitude, abundant.

109 And shield me from what grieves me through "I seek refuge in Allah", and be for me a Bringer of glad tidings through the basmala.

110 And grant me, by the bā', the finest permanence, a wonder to every man of worth who went before (me).

111 And grant me, by the sīn, a secret that is immense, O You Who free from need of whoever has grown proud.

112 And grant me, by the mīm, the erasing of what has issued from me, of what leads to turbidity.

113 And grant me, O Lord, the generosity of the One, by the alif of "Allāh", the Generous, the Refuge.

114 And grant me, by the two lāms, two kindnesses from You, both beautiful and pure.

115 And grant me, by the hā', the awe of the Beautiful (Al-Jamīl), O You: toward what You are not pleased with for me I do not incline.

116 By the alif of "ar-Raḥmān", grant me the answering of prayer, O Originator (Al-Badī') Who has bestowed nobility.

117 And grant me, by its lām, a tongue of truth (Qur'ān 26:84), and lead fair things to me always.

118 And grant me, by the rā', a good pleasure that lasts, without wrath or toil, O Eternal (Al-Qadīm).

119 And grant me, by the ḥā', an excellent safekeeping, O You to Whose door I have come imploring.

120 And grant me, by the mīm, an immediate possession, without reckoning, then a dominion to come.

121 And extend to me, by the alif, what is sought, O One; make hearts pliant for me.

122 And grant me, by the nūn, a light that blazes, and from You a benefit, with good pleasure, that is never cut off.

123 And grant me, by the alif of "ar-Raḥīm", the honour of the loving and of close kin.

124 And grant me a tongue of remembrance and good pleasure, by the lām and the rā', and lead the goal to me.

125 And grant me, by its ḥā’, a gift of the Enricher, Who grants election to whom He wills.

126 And grant me, by its yā’, ease without hardship, and reward all of me with thanks and accept me.

127 And grant me, by its mīm, the erasing of all faults, folded wholly away, and knowledge of hidden things.
